Dear lovers of spaces filled with positive energy,

“There’s magic in every beginning” – this inspirational quote by Hermann Hesse is, in my view, applicable in many contexts. After all, a fresh start is always the beginning of something new. The beginning of a journey. With all the excitement, expectations and anticipation that changes bring. A beginning is always an opportunity: to take something in another direction, to reinvent yourself, or to gain new experiences.

I’ve just made a new beginning in my life, too. In the fall of 2022, I stepped into the role of General Manager for the Sales and Marketing divisions at SWISS KRONO, in what was admittedly a challenging time. But what makes me absolutely confident for the future is the trusting relationship with my team and the huge number of ideas about our work that we generate when we communicate.

We’re working with a precious gift of nature. After all, wood is something very valuable indeed. It’s a new beginning! We humans decide how we’ll make use of this raw material. I watch with concern how much of this great good is currently being used to produce energy – and literally being “burnt up”. There are many different ways in which wood can serve us for decades. And this is the order of the day if we want to protect our planet: using raw materials as sustainably as we can and not “burning through them” in the short term.

The certified wood we use for our KRONOTEX floors makes its way from our factory in Heiligengrabe, Germany around the world to your home. To the offices and businesses where you work. It’s part of the beginning you’re building. With your energy and spirit. Thinking about that leaves me filled with enthusiasm as I go about my work.

I hope this new issue of our magazine offers you lots of creative inspiration for designing your spaces. We’ve showcased some of the megatrends for 2023 together with our new KRONOTEX decors. There’s bound to be something for every taste among this exciting array of items.

Best wishes,

space for fantasy and freedom.

Presented by the Calais Oak decor from the HERRINGBONE collection. Create a world in the spirit of savoir-vivre with a dark, velvety and smoky look, with an elegant shimmer and sophisticated spirit.

Did you know?

The bohemians formed a counter-movement to bourgeois living from the mid-19th century to the early 20th century. Their lifestyle and art fought against society's focus on performance and productivity. Bohemians were all about living life to the full. A love of freedom, art, peace, joy, self-expression and love itself were at the heart of their lives.

Bordeaux Oak, Pisa Oak,
Ferrara Oak, Toulouse Oak

Do you see life in more than just black and white?
Is your life full of color – and are you always ready for a change?
Then take the opportunity to shape your space in a way that suits you! With the decors in the HERRINGBONE collection from KRONOTEX, you can do just that.
MIX IT – whatever way you like!

Bordeaux Oak
D 3516 | HERRINGBONE

The Bordeaux Oak decor features delicate beige tones and is pleasingly understated. Nordic flair and a classic yet modern style for every space.

Pisa Oak
D 3861 | HERRINGBONE

Bright like forest blossom honey, Pisa Oak adds a touch of sunlight to your space. A colorful interplay of positive energy.

Ferrara Oak
D 3860 | HERRINGBONE

The Ferrara Oak decor combines colors of dark chocolate and nougat with elegance and confidence. A harmonious atmosphere of comfort.

Toulouse Oak
D 3678 | HERRINGBONE

The gentle creamy beige of the Toulouse Oak decor creates a warm ambiance, adding delightful touches here and there. The flooring recalls the elegance of a palace banquet hall.

Anabell's tip

Round lamps are the perfect contrast to the straight lines of the flooring's herringbone pattern. Objects with geometric shapes such as circles, triangles or squares generally look great in HERRINGBONE spaces.

Anabell's tip

Plants can really work magic in a room: they improve air quality, keep temperatures low on hot days and create humidity. They also dampen background noise, making them a passable form of soundproofing.

From a design perspective, carefully selected greenery can give spaces structure, depth, a fresh feel and – crucially – positive vibes.

So get some green into your space! With accents on the walls or in furnishings.

A tour of the SWISS KRONO factory

Israeli interior designers visit our flooring production

In the fall of 2022, a group of interior designers from Israel visited SWISS KRONO in Heiligen-grabe, Germany.

The 16 interior design experts from Tel Aviv traveled to Berlin with Ofer Bar from our partner partner Republic Floor Ltd and with Nir Orzel, the general manager of our specialist retailer DOMUS Nature, to take a look at our flooring production.

Israeli customers generally like to keep up with the latest trends, which means interior design is held in high regard in the country. What's more, Israel has a government-funded program that supports young families with purchasing a home, representing a considerable potential customer base for the design experts.

The Israeli guests are impressed with what they see at the SWISS KRONO factory.

Robert Schneider, Managing Director of Sales and Marketing, wishes Tamar Pitcho a happy 40th birthday, which the interior designer celebrated on the day of the SWISS KRONO factory tour.

Firsthand market expertise

The Israeli interior designers have all been working with our KRONOTEX floors for years. They appreciate the features of the product, as well as the design variety it offers. "The visit was a great opportunity for our sales team to find out firsthand what criteria the designers choose their flooring according to," says Robert Schneider, Managing Director of Sales and Marketing at SWISS KRONO. "After all, their suggestions have a decisive influence on our customers' purchasing decisions. We were therefore keen to find out from our visitors how they use our KRONOTEX floors."

Seeing it with their own eyes

There were plenty of opportunities for this during the three-hour factory tour. The interior designers were impressed by the size and the level of automation used in the factory. "I know carpentry stores and similar manual craft businesses, but this is the first time I've seen an industrial company as big as SWISS KRONO," says Einav Rosiano. "This is high-tech, what I'm seeing here, and I'm impressed. I can now tell my customers from my own experience about the high quality of the floors, which is a major plus point in my work."

Inspired by the wide range of design options

The new SWISS KRONO design center was of particular interest to the interior designers during their tour of the factory. The flooring design team showed the guests from Israel how KRONOTEX flooring is created, and they were, of course, also able to experience SWISS KRONO's flooring printer live in action.

This special technology was developed especially for the company and is unique worldwide. The digital printer can be used to produce custom flooring for individual customers or small quantities of flooring, giving SWISS KRONO a huge amount of flexibility in its flooring range.

Bringing worlds of experience together

Interior designer Liat Post was also impressed by the factory visit. The former HR manager specializes in office design because she wants to use her expertise from HR to design creative work environments. In many cases, she opts for KRONOTEX flooring.

During the factory tour, the interior designers learn how KRONOTEX floors are created.

The experts were impressed by the attention to detail and design variety offered by KRONOTEX flooring.

The conclusion of the guests and hosts? An extremely successful visit that all participants got plenty out of. "This was a great experience – it makes you want to see and learn more," says Grégory Labouré, who heads KRONOTEX's sales division in Israel. "You see, it is extremely important for our product development team to know what customers are looking for and what they choose. This is not always easy for large producers like us, since we sell to wholesalers. By networking with interior design experts, we obtain valuable information for our collections. We would like to thank our guests for their fantastic feedback, on social media as well."

Creating a balanced space

Interior design begins with the floor

When asked about the first step in designing spaces, Hila Alter confidently gives an answer straight away: "The choice of flooring, since this forms the basis. The floor is ultimately what determines the feel of my entire interior design concept."

For the living areas in her clients' penthouse, Hila Alter opts for the classic Treviso Oak HERRINGBONE flooring.

What an incredible message from an expert who has won multiple "Best of" awards for her interior design in online votes in Israel, and has been using KRONOTEX floors as part of her ensembles for years. SWISS KRONO sales representative Grégory Labouré met the 41-year-old from Tel Aviv and her specialist retailer Nir Orzel from DOMUS Nature in Berlin. Hila is currently planning a project that is close to her heart. This is because the maisonette penthouse apartment, which needs to be redesigned and is located in the small town of Petah Tikva, is not the only thing that Hila feels drawn to – the interior designer also likes the owners Racheli and Tal. Hila is planning to create the dream home for the couple and their children using KRONOTEX floors. The design expert knows exactly what she's looking for: they should look natural, warm and tasteful. "The penthouse was previously furnished with parquet flooring and featured a country-home style interior," says Hila. "My customers now want a more modern look, while keeping it tasteful and elegant."

The same flooring in two variations

Grégory Labouré is well prepared for these requirements, as agreed upon with Nir Orzel. After all, the variety of flooring offered by KRONOTEX covers the entire spectrum of different interior design styles. "I agreed with Nir that we would recommend to Hila a combination of the same flooring in different variations," says the flooring expert. "Both light and dark KRONOTEX flooring would be ideal, laid as planks as well as in herringbone pattern. I'm excited to see what Hila thinks of our suggestions."

Soft beige or smoky brown

The prepared flooring could hardly be more different in terms of color and the effect they have on a space. Soft, warm beige tones make up the vanilla shimmering Treviso Oak HERRINGBONE flooring, which looks both modern and timeless at the same time. The plank pattern of the Pettersson Oak Nature flooring is an absolute classic that pairs perfectly with this.

Dark and smoky in a mix of brown, anthracite and black, the second flooring, Calais Oak, makes a powerful statement in rooms. The herringbone flooring turns any room into something reminiscent of a grand ballroom. The corresponding Pettersson Oak Dark plank conveys presence and impact.

Treviso Oak

Calais Oak
D 4766 | HERRINGBONE

Love at first sight

In a few simple steps, Gregory and Nir skillfully lay some panels of each flooring type, giving Hila a first impression of what they look like.

The designer quickly found her favorite. She already had an image in her head of how the newly designed penthouse should look: tones of grey, black, pink and wood would characterize the spacious living and dining room area. The floor would need to lend the room a luxurious look and harmonize well with the chosen colors and wood-elements. The Treviso Oak HERRINGBONE flooring from KRONOTEX was a perfect match for Hila's requirements. For the staircase adjacent to the open living space, the interior designer chose Pettersson Oak Nature flooring.

Nir Orzel
General Manager of DOMUS Nature

A growing market

After detailed consultation, Many of Hila and Nir's customers end up choosing SWISS KRONO flooring. This despite it still being somewhat of a newcomer on the Israeli market, as Nir reveals. "In Israel, tiles are more commonly used in houses and apartments. But because customers want to keep up with the latest design trends, they are increasingly opting for the versatile design offered by KRONOTEX flooring.

Pettersson Oak Nature
D 4764 | EXQUISIT PLUS

Hila Alter uses an extra-wide plank of the Pettersson Oak Nature flooring from KRONOTEX on the stairs.

A speedy effort

Between being handed the keys and the customers moving in, interior designer Hila Alter and her specialist retailer Nir Orzel only had three weeks to get the job done. "We didn't have a minute to spare. KRONOTEX flooring is actually pretty quick and easy to install," says the expert. "But when it comes to HERRINGBONE, it's not that simple. Thankfully Nir and his team, as always, fitted the flooring with the utmost precision. The stairs were laid with planks from the EXQUISIT PLUS collection in combination with a solid wood trim, which has turned out fabulous. We make the perfect team – I can always rely on Nir's suggestions and support during the installation work."

The result of Hila's interior design work in the penthouse apartment in Petah Tikva, Israel, is nothing short of impressive. It comes as no surprise that her clients are overjoyed with their new home. Tal loves the fireplace and the cabinet for his exquisite whisky collection. Racheli is over the moon that her desire for a modern-yet-warm design has been perfectly implemented in her new home.

Mission "dream home" accomplished. You've outdone yourself, Hila. Congratulations on this excellent work – we are proud that our KRONOTEX flooring is part of your stunning interior design!

Interior Trend
2023

The trend scouts all agree that lavender is set to dominate our homes in 2023. This delicate, blue-tinged pastel tone can be both calming and fun. On furniture, walls or textiles, lavender creates a perfect balance in the home. And – even better – this serene color is great for combining with other shades. Pair bright, warm floors with lavender, and bask in the glow of a summer’s day in Provence. Or opt for more low-key, grey flooring with lavender to create an oasis of balance and calm. Is your home as colorful as your life? Then it not only suits you to a T, it's also in tune with one of the megatrends of 2023: eclecticism. A hard one to pronounce? We think so too! That's why we simply refer to it as a perfectly curated patchwork of beautiful things. A mix of old and new furniture, large prints, treasured finds from your last visit to the flea market. Have the courage to combine all the things that speak to your soul.

A neutral floor without an overly strong wood grain can bring a touch of calm to your colorful world. And if you group your treasured pieces together into small collections, you can also create zones to give the eyes a little rest.

simply pure.

We would be the first to admit that it's difficult to part with possessions, even if you haven't used them for a long time. Moving house often offers the opportunity to consider what you really want to keep and how much you actually need in order to feel at home. Interior design is set to focus on the idea of paring back to the essentials in 2023.

No-frills wooden and metal furniture features in airy, urban rooms, where the design impact centers, above all, around "absences". This trend is perfect for combining with our new, natural stone-effect flooring. These styles of decor exude strength and clarity, underlining the consciously pared-back look.

EVERLASTING LOVE:

Scandinavian Style

Few trends have enjoyed such widespread and enduring popularity as this one. It is plain to see why: rooms with Nordic flair have a light and airy, timelessly beautiful and wonderfully laid-back feel.

Scandinavian living is comfortable and extremely contemporary. The furnishing style is all about wood and nature, with the use of warm textiles to reinforce the effect.

The first thing you need for the perfect Scandinavian style is as much white as possible. And a wood-effect floor with a light, warm glow is the perfect way to boost the impact of the white. Add accents of on-trend green and blue to round off your dream of Nordic living in consummate style.

Let's pay a visit to: Dörthe und Maik Roske
At home in: Plau am See
Mecklenburg-Vorpommern, Germany

Watch
the episode on YouTube.

The Roske family found their ideal flooring at KRONOTEX retailer bauXpert in Teterow, Mecklenburg-Vorpommern.

Dörthe and Maik Roske lead busy lives and are always on the go. Alongside their day jobs as a nurse and sales representative, they also take care of their holiday homes by Lake Plau. They don't have much time left for their motorhome by Lake Muritz. That's where they enjoy their breakfast on Saturday morning in the sunnier seasons, before they head back to another task.

At the moment, their home is right at the top of their to-do list. The nesting fever that gripped many people during the pandemic has now set in for Dörthe and Maik, too. Of course, it helps that Mike's a dab hand at DIY. Dörthe isn't afraid to get stuck in either, and is always ready to lend a hand. Over the years, she's picked up some serious skills of her own.

Home

Home for me is wherever my wife Dörthe is!

Maik Roske

Each laminate pack contains several sample pieces of a decor. Before laying the flooring, make sure to unpack the box and sort the different types of decor.

"I love nature," says Dörthe Roske. "So I wanted to find something for the flooring that looked really natural, too!"

The nurse achieved exactly this goal with her choice of Macro Oak Nature from the MAMMUT collection by KRONOTEX. The warm beige-brown of the floor is reminiscent of cappuccino with foam in its color interplay. A distinctive wood grain decorates the boards.

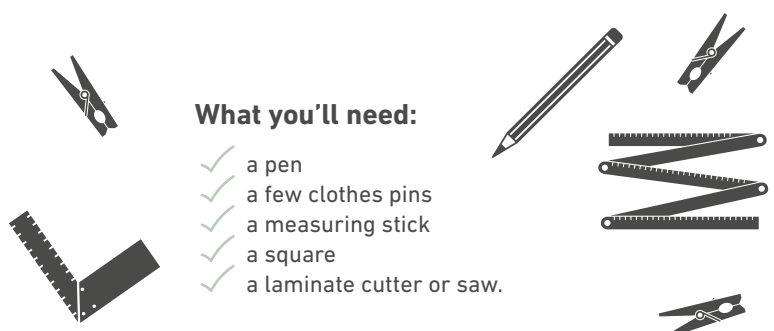

When choosing a laminate, craftsman Maik Roske focused on the usability as well as the look of the flooring: "Our new floor is much more robust than plain wood. So when our grandson goes running through the house with his shoes on and doesn't take care, it doesn't matter. It's really quick and easy to lay the flooring, too. That's a huge bonus!"

The click system makes KRONOTEX laminate easy to lay. Clothes pins help with the distance from the wall.

KRONOTEX laminate can be fitted to your space with just a few tools.

What you'll need:

- ✓ a pen
- ✓ a few clothes pins
- ✓ a measuring stick
- ✓ a square
- ✓ a laminate cutter or saw.

Plau am See The spa resort with its picture-postcard old town sits on the western side of Germany's seventh-largest lake, Lake Plau, and the Müritz-Elde waterway. It's the western gateway to the Mecklenburg Lake Plateau. The old town is home to many half-timbered and brick buildings. The town's landmarks include the blue lift bridge, the St. Marien church dating back to the 13th century and the new observation tower on Lake Plau.

DIY

KRONOTEX laminate is easy to lay thanks to the click system. But even the best flooring is nothing without the right underlay!

Maik Roske

The right underlay is crucial to the laminate's properties.

Panel size (mm)	188 × 1,845 × 12
Box	4 panels   1,387 m <sup>2</sup>
Pallet	56 boxes   77,697 m <sup>2</sup>

The decors are optimized to resist the effects of moisture for longer. Due to the significantly reduced swelling behavior, they are suitable for wet rooms.

Mountain Pine Nature

D 80012 | 1-Strip | ER | V4

The warm mid-brown tone of the decor is flanked by a radiant amber color. The floor bathes the room in the charm of a rustic cabin.

The earthy color interplay of bark and trunk bathes the decor in a cozy warmth. The dark flooring sets off the radiance of light-colored furniture.

Everest Oak

D 3076 | 1-Strip | ER | V4

Mountain Pine Dark

D 80022 | 1-Strip | ER | V4

Rich, smoky dark brown is blended in this decor with warm nougat tones. A floor full of strength and allure.
